Ofiarowanie Pańskie – Matki Bożej Gromnicznej

Czterdzieści dni po Bożym Narodzeniu, 2 lutego, obchodzimy Święto Ofiarowania Pańskiego, znane również jako Święto Matki Bożej Gromnicznej (Candlemas). Tego dnia wspominamy wydarzenie, gdy Maryja i Józef przynieśli Dzieciątko Jezus do świątyni. Jest to zakończenie okresu liturgicznego Bożego Narodzenia i Objawienia Pańskiego.

W ramach obchodów Święta Matki Bożej Gromnicznej świece będzie można zakupić w niedzielę 25 stycznia oraz w Niedzielę 1 lutego. Świece zostaną poświęcone, aby można je było zabrać do domu i używać przez cały rok jako pamiątkę, że Jezus Chrystus jest Światłością świata.

The Presentation of the Lord – Candlemas

Forty days after Christmas, on February 2nd, we celebrate the Feast of the Presentation of the Lord, also known as Candlemas. We commemorate when Mary and Joseph brought the infant Jesus to the temple. This marks the end of the liturgical period of Christmas and Epiphany.

As part of the celebration of Candlemas, blessed candles will be available for purchase on Sunday, January 25th, and Sunday, February 1st. Use them throughout the year as a reminder that Jesus Christ is the Light of the world!

Scout Sunday

Join us Sunday, February 8th 2026

We thank you for heeding the directions in the parking lot at HJH upon dismissal. Our Knights of Columbus are helping with this important task of keeping our children safe.

Saint Blaise

Saint Blaise is best known today as the patron saint of those with throat troubles because he once cured a child who was choking on a fish bone. That is why, on February 3, the feast day of St. Blaise, priests bless the throats of Catholics to protect the faithful from sickness and physical problems of the throat. A fourth-century bishop of Sebaste in Armenia, Saint Blaise suffered martyrdom for his faithfulness to Christ.

The Memorare

Remember, O most gracious Virgin Mary, that never was it known that anyone who fled to thy protection, implored thy help, or sought thy intercession was left unaided. Inspired with this confidence, I fly to thee, O Virgin of virgins, my Mother; to thee do I come; before thee I stand, sinful and sorrowful. O Mother of the Word Incarnate, despise not my petitions, but in thy mercy hear and answer me. ~Amen

Do you ever feel like you could use some help approaching God in your prayers?

We pray The Memorare together after each Mass. This beautiful prayer reminds us that we have a wonderful advocate, protector and mother.....Our Blessed Mother. Mary is our Mother too.

MEMBERSHIP ANNOUNCEMENT

Our local Knights of Columbus chapter is asking the men of this catholic community to join in their mission to serve our community, defend our faith, and bring healing and mercy to those in need. The Knights are animated by a desire to be better husbands, fathers, neighbors, and men of faith. The Knights of Columbus is one of the largest Catholic organizations in the world. In 2025, the global organization raised over $250 million dollars for charitable causes.

Locally, our counsel raised over $25,000 dollars last year in support of various charities and service organizations. In addition to charitable giving, they also serve our parish and community with their time. You will see the Knights sponsoring blood drives, hosting an annual golf outing, and helping with reconciliation.

The ask is minimal. If you have as little as 2 hours per month to give, you can make a real impact to our community and parish. The time you give is flexible, always appreciated, but never obligated.

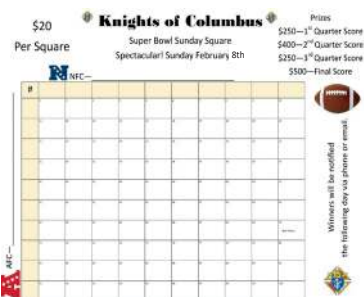

If you feel called to give and be a channel of aid and mercy in our community, stop by their table at the end of mass to learn more about the mission, and consider becoming a Knight.

Thank you and God Bless.

VIRTUAL

St. Joseph's Corner

*"The glory of God is man fully alive."
—St. Irenaeus of Lyons*

The Ten Commandments are often treated as the sum of the moral life—as though avoiding grave sin were the same as living in holiness. They preserve right relationship with God, with others, and within ourselves. In this sense, they are indispensable. They establish the minimum conditions for life, protecting against death—moral, social, and spiritual.

But preventing death is not the same as living the life of holiness the Father wills for us.

St. Irenaeus' claim about man being fully alive as the glory of God is not a vague affirmation of human potential. It is a profound dogmatic assertion: God is glorified not merely when man obeys, but when man is brought to his telos—the fulfillment of his purpose—in communion with Him. Obedience alone can restrain what destroys us; only communion brings us to fullness of life.

Moses gives the Law—necessary, holy, and good—to guard man against death. But Christ gives more than law. He gives life itself. In Him, the moral life is no longer ordered merely toward restraint, but toward transformation; no longer toward survival, but toward participation. Jesus reveals the way to life not simply by clarifying the law, but by drawing man into communion with the Father—through Him, with Him, and in Him.

In the Beatitudes, Jesus reveals His countenance and calls us to be conformed to Him in charity, in service, and in love toward one another (CCC 1717). He comes down from the mountain not merely reaffirming laws carved into stone to guard against death, but proclaiming words that open the path to life in the Kingdom—a life marked by discipleship, holiness, and a happiness that endures.

The Beatitudes thus mark a turning point. Christ does not negate the law; He draws it inward, shifting the focus from external compliance to the formation of the heart. They are not a higher set of rules, but a new measure of life—one shaped by grace, oriented toward the Kingdom, and ordered toward communion. Jesus calls us to more than obedience alone; He calls us to transformation.

Two thousand years ago, Jesus' words shattered the complacency that often accompanies mere compliance. It was no longer sufficient simply to avoid evil or to keep the law externally. Christ called His disciples to something far more exacting: "Unless your righteousness exceeds that of the scribes and Pharisees, you will never enter the kingdom of heaven" (Mt 5:20). Obedience, while necessary, was no longer the measure. Love was.

This was not a rejection of the law, but its exposure. The law could restrain the hand, but it could not yet transform the heart. It could identify sin, but it could not impart the life required to overcome it. This was not an intensification of legal demands, but a reorientation toward likeness with the Father: "Be perfect, as your heavenly Father is perfect" (Mt 5:48).

These words were deeply countercultural. In a world ordered around honor, reciprocity, and visible righteousness, Christ blessed the poor, the meek, the merciful, and the persecuted. He declared happy those who appeared to have lost—those who did not grasp, retaliate, or assert themselves. This inversion revealed a truth the law alone could not make fully visible: that true righteousness is measured not by external conformity, but by interior participation in divine life.

And this challenge has lost none of its force.

Neither has this fallen world lost its resistance to it.

The world continues to catechize us in a different gospel—one that prizes fairness over mercy, reciprocity over self-gift, and entitlement over sacrifice. It teaches us to keep score, to demand what is owed, to measure success by what can be accumulated or displayed. Even within religious language, these instincts persist. Distortions of the Gospel still proclaim material prosperity as a sign of divine favor, as though blessing could be measured in wealth, comfort, or visible success.

But this is not the faith of the Church.

Against every age's attempt to domesticate the Gospel, Christ continues to proclaim a righteousness that exceeds calculation. The Beatitudes do not reward power, possession, or control. They bless poverty of spirit, mercy freely given, and hearts made pure through surrender. They confront not only the sins we commit, but the standards by which we judge success itself.

So, dear brothers, rise to the challenge at hand. Do not seek what is merely due to you, but freely give what you have received. Surrender it to God for the sake of the Kingdom. Compliance is not enough; true righteousness is born of total self-gift—the humble recognition that all we have and all we are is not of our own making, but comes from Him, through whom all things were made.

Live fully in fulfillment of your purpose: to give. Strive, by grace, for the perfection of the Father. Then—and only then—when you are fully alive, you may share in His glory.

—Sebastian Abbinanti (Parish Pastoral Council Member)

2026 CATHOLIC MINISTRIES APPEAL

The 2026 Catholic Ministries Annual Appeal has begun!

The Diocese of Joliet invites all parishioners to support the 2026 Catholic Ministries Annual Appeal (CMAA). Together, we can make a profound difference.

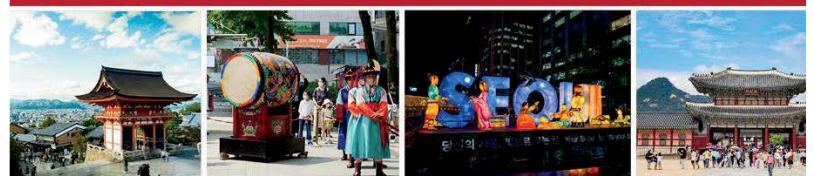

This year's theme is Beyond all Expectations: Faith that Elevates! Through the CMAA, we ensure Christ's mission and ministries reach everyone. We provide shelter for the homeless, feed the hungry, support vocations, and educate the next generation of Catholics. Our parish cannot accomplish this alone. As a diocese, we can do so much more.

Please review your mailing from the Diocese of Joliet and prayerfully consider your gift.

If you do not receive a CMAA mailing in the upcoming weeks, please contact the parish office. Thank you!
